Peace Conferees Study Plan for Neutralizing Laos

GENEVA (AP) — The international conference on Laos agreed today to an adjournment to give participants a chance to study proposals for neutralizing the Southeast Asian kingdom.

No date was fixed for the next conference session, except for the specification that it be called before next Monday.

News of this move seemed to foreshadow a lessening of the conference pace until President Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev confer in Vienna on June 3-4.

Meanwhile, the United States threw its support behind Thailand's proposal to add Indonesia and Malaysia to the 14 nation conference.

The American delegation in a statement said enlarging the conference ference as Thailand proposed Tuesday would be in line with U.S. policy favoring the widest possible consultation by countries in areas where problems occur.

U.S. delegates were reported to feel that Burma, Cambodia and Thailand-Southeast Asian countries already at the conference—had shown a strong desire for a truly neutral Laos. The Americans believed Malaysia and Indonesia would add to the pressure that this pro-neutrality bloc could exert on the Communists.

The U.S. delegation was reserved toward another Thai proposal to add Indonesia and Malaysia to the International Control Commission for Laos, now made up of India, Canada and Poland. The U. S. statement said any enlargement of the commission "would have to be decided in consultation with present members of the ICC both as to the advantages and the need."

The conference was expected to take up a message today from the truce commission concerning the cease-fire the commission is supposed to be watching.

There was no indication of what the message said. It was received Monday and discussed Tuesday by the conference co-chairmen, Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko of the Soviet Union and Malcolm MacDonald of Britain.

The opening of the conference May 12 was delayed 24 hours until assurances were received from the control commission that a cease-fire was in effect. Since then, Western delegations have alleged violations of the truce, while Thailand has charged there is full-scale fighting.

Eastern and neutral delegates contend that the cease-fire exists, that some minor violations are to be expected and that this is not important.

As the conference turned to procedural matters, it had before it still another plan for establishing Laos as a unified, neutral nation, this one from France.

Introduced by Ambassador Jean Chauvel, the French plan called for withdrawal of both the U.S. military advisers helping Premier Prince Boun Oum's pro-Western government and Communist North Vietnamese working with the Pathet Lao rebels. They would be replaced by French training personnel, in line with the 1954 Geneva armistice that recognized the independence of Laos, Cambodia and North and South Viet Nam.

The 1954 agreements authorized France to keep 1,500 military instructors in Laos and maintain two bases with up to 3,500 soldiers.

France, preoccupied with the war in Algeria, turned most of the training job over to the United States and kept only a tiny force on the bases.

The French plan also calls for the future Laotian government to promise not to join any military alliance and for the conference nations to agree to abstain from any direct or indirect interference in the internal affairs of Laos.

Chang's iron fisted regime stepped up its crackdown against what it called social evils and subversion.

A military court sentenced 45 young people to jail terms ranging from three months to a year for dancing at an unlicensed hall in violation of martial law regulations.

The report brought an expression of alarm from FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, who viewed as ominous an upsurge of crimes against the person, particularly rape.

"While normally the number of rapes reported during the first three months of the year is comparatively low," he said, "28 large American cities of 250,000 to 500,000 inhabitants reported a 41 per cent increase in forcible rapes during January, February and March of this year."

Compared with the first quarter of 1960—a record year for crime—rapes in all cities participating in the FBI's system of uniform crime reports rose 2 per cent in the first three months of this year. Murders were up 9 per cent and aggravated assaults 3 per cent.

The conference, which ends today, was attended by engineers and scientists of the Project Mercury space task group. Newsmen and photographers were not permitted to see the group.

A McDonnell spokesman described the conference as one called to discuss the capsules.

New 'Freedom Ride' Starts On Journey to New Orleans

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Eleven "freedom riders" white and Negro—broke the racial barriers in a bus station lunchroom today. Then, under heavy military guard they left for New Orleans, La., in a continued assault on Southern segregation.

Four hours later, a second group, composed of one white man and 13 Negroes, left in another bus, also bound for Jackson.

Meanwhile, a new group of seven "freedom riders," including four white faculty members of Yale and Wesleyan universities, left Atlanta by bus today headed for strife-torn Montgomery, and New Orleans.

National Guardsmen with fixed bayonets, and state and city police, sealed off the block around the downtown Trailways bus station to prevent a recurrence of the bloody weekend race riots which followed arrival of some of the riders here Saturday.

And, to guard against demonstrations along the route, a convoy of approximately 75 Guardsmen and 100 highway patrolmen specially trained in mob control was ordered to take the bus to the Mississippi state line.

Similar precautions were under way in Mississippi.

Brig. Gen. W. P. Wilson, adjutant general in the adjoining state, flew to Meridian, near the state line, to await arrival of the bus. Gov. Ross Barnett already had alerted the Mississippi highway patrol and National Guardsmen to stand by.

Unless changed en route, the bus would go through Selma and Demopolis, Ala., and Meridian and Jackson, Miss.

Before boarding the bus, most of the Negro riders walked calmly to the bus station lunchcounter heretofore reserved for white passengers, and ordered breakfast. No attempt was made to refuse them.

The bus station manager, W. E. Evans, said no Negro had ever eaten there before.

Civilian police and National Guardsmen, mobilized under martial law since Sunday night when the racial violence erupted at a Negro church, took widespread precautions to prevent a new outbreak as the riders prepared to leave today.

The entire block in front of the bus station was cleared of traffic. Steel-helmeted National Guardsmen standing amid shoulder to shoulder kept bystanders away.

Other troops, rifles ready, stood guard on the roofs of nearby buildings.

Thirty minutes after the bus left the station headed south, the highway patrol broadcast an alert to all cars along the route to "be on a sharp lookout right and left," especially along stretches of U.S. 80 bordered by dense woods.

There was no evidence of U.S. marshals in the armed guard as the bus left Montgomery. The federal officers sent here Saturday night after the race rioting broke out patrolled the streets until they were pulled back to their quarters at Maxwell Air Force Base.

One white man accompanied 10 Negroes on the bus today. He gave his name as Paul Dietrich, 29-year-old theology student at the Arlington extension of the University of Virginia. He said his home is in Harrisburg, Pa.

Also on the bus were three of the Negroes whose arrival Saturday at the Greyhound bus station touched off a wild outburst of violence.

White crowds gathered behind the cordon of National Guardsmen near the station, but made no effort to push through the human barricade. Some muttered threats, but nothing more.

One of the first men at the scene heard a man calling for help," said Capt. Joseph Wiggins, McChord public information officer. "Rhe survivor, in shock, was found sitting on a log near the wreckage."

The Globemaster, from Donaldson AFB, S.C., took off in foggy weather about 2:20 a.m.

"There was a flash in the sky," said a sheriff's officer. "We could not tell whether it came from an explosion in the air or after the plane hit the ground."

The $1.5 million plane apparently landed in a heavily wooded area it cut no swath and knocked down only a few trees.

Idle Pay Claims In Ohio Decline

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — New claims for unemployment compensation have dropped in total number for the fourth successive week, the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation reported today.

New claims dropped from 15,166 in the week ended May 13 to 14,577 in the week ended May 20.

Reports for the week also reflected the continued drop in claims of those unemployed one week or more. The total claims on file under the regular compensation law was 148,704 in the week May 20 compared to 162,260 the previous week.

The bureau also reported that there now are 59,096 continuing claims on file for the federal temporary extended benefits available to those whose benefits have lapsed. There were 4,992 new claims filed under this category in the week ended May 20.

President To Address Joint Congress Session

Assembly Eyes Sales Tax Bill

Stamp Redemption May Be Abolished

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's familiar sales tax stamps would be abolished by a bill before the House today.

At the same time, the Senate turned its attention to one of three measures aimed at striking major blow against organized gambling.

Approved a month ago by the House, the bill would stiffen penalties for producing, selling or possessing policy slips.

Sponsors of the sale tax stamp bill contend it could mean a yearly saving of about $6.8 million to the state.

Many religious and charity groups finance their efforts to some degree through money collected from the state by redeeming tax stamps at 2 per cent of their face value. (For 21 years until 1959, the redemption rate was 3 per cent. The 1959 legislature reduced it.)

Stamp agents, including county treasurers, get commissions for handling them. And of course here are printing costs.

The bill allows vendors a 1 per cent discount for collecting the tax, plus a 1 per cent allowance for paying the state in advance on the basis of what they expect the tax to be on actual sales each month.

Opponents have expressed concern about a tax collection lag if the stamps are eliminated. As it stands, the stamps are paid for by merchants before they are issued in connection with sales.

Four years ago, the House passed a similar stamp-abolishing bill, but it died in the Senate. Two years ago, Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle proposed to ditch the stamp system. But the legislature instead narrowed the proposal down until stamps were abolished only for automobile sales.

Motor vehicle dealers are excluded from the discount that would be provided in the bill debated today.

The policy slip bill before the Senate provides for a 500 fine and up to a year or more in jail on first conviction. A subsequent offense could bring a sentence of one to three years and a $500-$1,000 fine.

Ratterman's Election Foes Are Selected

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP)—Reform candidate George Ratterman's two opponents in the Campbell County sheriff contest this November will be a Republican ex-shepherd and a Democratic TV repair shop manager.

Al Howe, sheriff from 1953 to 1957, won the Republican nomination by a mere 64 votes. He had 1,696 to Richard G. Howes' 1,632.

In the Democratic race, John Peluso won easily, with 2,361 votes to his closest rival's 1,623.

There is no telling how many votes Ratterman would have received. The turnout to vote for the major party candidates was light.

Ratterman, an independent endorsed by the Campbell County Committee of 500 and the Newport Ministerial Association, is pledged to wipe out alleged vice and gambling in the county and Newport.

Peluso, his Democratic rival, who narrowly missed being elected to the Newport City Commission in 1959, has said that if elected, he will use the sheriff's office to benefit all citizens and not "merely as a tax collecting agency."

Ratterman, who announced his candidacy April 4, was arrested early May 9 in the Glenn Hotel at Newport in the company of a striptease dancer. Charges of breach of peace, disorderly conduct and resisting arrest against Ratterman were dismissed Saturday by Newport Police Court, but both the county grand jury and a federal grand jury at Lexington are probing the case.

Education Aid Bill Near Approval

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's federal aid to education bill neared final victory in the Senate today.

Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana told newsmen he hoped to dispose of all remaining amendments to the hotly disputed $2.55-billion public school measure today.

Mansfield called the Senate in three hours early to try to get a quick start at beating down four or five expected amendments.

He said some lengthy opposition speeches undoubtedly would delay the roll call to pass the bill until Thursday.

Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., for one, has prepared a 67-page speech lambasting the measure—a major item on President Kennedy's 1961 program. Thurmond estimated it would take three or four hours to make his point.

The House Education Committee meets again today on its version of the school legislation and may clear it for floor action.

The administration won a big victory in this group Tuesday when supporters of aid for private schools withheld their amendment. Administration forces feared inclusion of such a provision would kill the bill.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., was turned down this morning on an amendment in which he would outlaw any federal funds for teacher salaries.

Administration forces easily quashed two Republican amendments to the bill, including a substitute proposed by Goldwater.

Turned down 62 to 32 was a civil rights amendment sponsored by Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y. It would have authorized taxpayers to file federal District Court suits to bar grants to states not complying with the Supreme Court's 1954 school desegregation decision.

More Funds Said Needed

Space, Aid Plans To Be Told Thursday

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy will address a joint session of Congress in person Thursday to ask increased funds for space, foreign aid and other spending.

House Majority Leader John W. McCormack, D-Mass., interrupted debate on a $12.5 billion defense authorization bill to announce the joint session to be held at 12:30 p.m.

Among other things, Kennedy is expected to ask Congress to support a sharply increased fallout shelter program for the protection of civilians against sneak nuclear attack.

The entire message is understood to be designed to provide a powerful stimulant to the American space program and to both the military and assistance arms of U.S. foreign policy.

It has been estimated to cost around $1 billion by some informants. There will be emphasis on aid to Asian and African countries, it was understood, but less money than originally contemplated for programs of public works and other measures designed to reduce unemployment.

Kennedy's decision to appear before Congress appeared to indicate that he places special importance on his requests.

It is rare for a president to make such an address except at the start of Congress, when he delivers his State of the Union message, or perhaps in time of war.

Kennedy is not expected to put a price tag on the stepped-up shelter plans, officials said, but will indicate that a separate supplemental boost in the pending $104-million budget for the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization will be sent to Congress later.

OCDM Director Frank B. Ellis has been urging the White House to seek a $300-million increase, to be devoted exclusively to plans and surveys for sheltering almost the entire urban population, building and improving shelters in public buildings and providing aid to states and municipalities for the inclusion of shelters in their public structures.

However, Rep. Robert F. Grone-man, R-Hamilton, chairman of a subcommittee which pondered more than a dozen proposed methods of redistricting, says he thinks the proposed new district would not give the advantage of either party.

Election results over the last 10 years from those three counties are "pretty much of a tossup," he said.

The new district would have a population of 345,317. The three counties form a "U" around Hamilton County in the southwest corner of the state.

Butler would be taken from the heavily populated 3rd District, largest in the state and sixth largest in the nation in number of persons, leaving just Montgomery County in that district (remaining population 527,080).

Clermont would come from the 6th District of Clermont, Brown, Adams, Scioto, Pike, Highland, Ross, Fayette and Pickaway counties.

Warren would come from the 7th District of Warren, Clinton, Greene, Clark, Madison, Champaign, Logan and Union counties.

It all started Sunday afternoon when Dougie was looking for a playmate. No one answered at the Reighley home so Dougie walked in and started looking around. He found a cash box in a bedroom and helped himself.

He didn't know how much he had . . . most 7-year-olds can't count that high . . . so he had three older boys count it for him and paid each $10 for the favor.

After he was finally caught, came the job of rounding up what was left.

There was $147 stuffed up under a truck parked in a vacant lot and $40 more on the ground. Another $123 was found under some shrubs at a nearby home and $130 was recovered from his friends. And there was the roll he tossed behind the principal's door when he was called into the office.

When the collection was finished there was $479.04.

What happened to little Dougie? Detectives left him in the "hands" most able to discipline him—his mother's.

Highland Farmer Killed

HILLSBORO, Ohio (AP) — A young Highland County farmer was electrocuted Tuesday afternoon when a silo-tilling rig bumped into a power line. The victim was Charles A. Milburn, 25, of Belfast, 10 miles southeast of here.

Officers said the mishap occurred when Douglas failed to negotiate a curve in the road and slid into the ditch. The car, moderately damaged, knocked down several yards of fence according to officers.

Ohioans Vote Together

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio's Sens. Frank J. Lausche and Stephen M. Young voted with the majority which defeated an amendment to the school aid bill, 62-32. The proposal would have authorized court tests of constitutionality of grants under the bill.

U.S. Veep Returns Home From 'Challenging' Mission

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson returned today from a 29,000-mile diplomatic mission to Asia which he described as "the most challenging trip of my life."

President Kennedy and a large number of other government officials welcomed the vice president on the White House lawn as he arrived by helicopter to report to the President.

Kennedy described the vice president's tour as an American effort to indicate this country's deep concern for the cause of freedom.

Johnson brought with him recommendations for new military techniques and bold economic measures to prevent a creeping Communist take-over of the area. He told newsmen he was ready to give the President an interim report, but a detailed formal report will be made later.

Stopping off at Bermuda Tuesday, the tall Texan gave a news conference his impressions on his mission to South Viet Nam, the Philippines, Formosa, Thailand, India and Pakistan. He also made an overnight stop in Athens, Greece.

Johnson said the situation in Southeast Asia is quite serious. The struggle to preserve freedom there, he said, will be "long costly and, in many instances, dangerous."

He said he had been reluctant to undertake the mission. He said he felt he was being sent into a world of pessimism and defeat where "peoples willingly were surrendering their freedom."

"I am happy to say that the experiences and observations of the last two weeks stripped away many of these doubts and my report to the President is going to be a good deal more optimistic than I ever dreamed it might."

Throughout Southern and Southeast Asia, Johnson said, he found the backbones of the people "a lot stronger, the strength of the countries a lot greater, the determination to remain free a lot more vibrant than I ever dreamed would be the case."

He added that he doesn't want to give the impression the situation in Southeast Asia isn't grave. "The Communists seem determined to overwhelm the region through subversion, terrorism, intimidation and trumped up insurrections," he said.

Dayton Cager Is Tied to 'Fix' Scandal

NEW YORK (AP)—The college basketball scandal investigation in New York spread today to a total of 23 players from 15 colleges.

Frank S. Hogan, New York district attorney, said 14 more players and 10 additional colleges were involved in the mushrooming scandal.

Hogan made the disclosure when announcing that Joseph Hacken of New York had been indicted on charges of conspiracy and bribery to fix basketball games.

Two basketball players from St. John's University of Brooklyn and one from New York University were named. Players from these schools had not been implicated previously.

Hogan also said that a player from Dayton University and another from the University of Iowa had acted as intermediaries in recruiting college players for bribes.

Hogan identified the New York U player as Raymond Paprocky, Michael Parenti, 25, and William J. Chrystal, 26.

Hogan named as the intermediaries Roger Brown, 18, of Dayton, and Cornelius Hawkins, 19, Iowa freshman from New York who left school recently.

In addition, Hogan named two players from Seton Hall University, both mentioned previously in the investigation—Henry Gunther, 22, and Arthur Hicks, 22.

Hawkins, a sensational high school player in his native Brooklyn, was the first player from a Big Ten school ever to be implicated in the basketball scandals.

The last big scandal in 1951 involved 33 players from seven colleges.

Man Claims Title to Heart Of Columbus

AUBURN, Calif. (AP) — A 75-year-old retired civil engineer has given the people of Ohio's capital city something to think about.

Charlie T. Smith claims he owns two-thirds of downtown Columbus and that a 99-year lease given by his ancestors will expire in a few months. Ohio's capital building is in the center of downtown Columbus.

Charles said he has genealogical evidence that he is a direct descendant of George Van Zandt, who leased the property in 1863 to the federal government for a Civil War military installation.

"I figure Ohio will give me a pretty good fight on it, but I can prove my claim," Charlie said. In Columbus, Franklin County Recorder James A. Schaefer studied deed and lease records but said he failed to find any properties involving the name of Van Zandt. He added he could find nothing in his search to support Smith's claim.

CADDY MILLER'S

Antitrust Probe Is Opened Against Telegraph Company

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has started an antitrust investigation of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co.

Lee Loevinger, assistant attorney general in charge of the Justice Department's antitrust division, said that as a result of "a number of complaints concerning activities" of AT&T, the division is investigating various aspects of the telephone industry.

Stock in AT&T dropped more than $3 a share in early trading today on the New York Stock Exchange.

Loevinger disclosed the investigation in a letter to E. L. Hageman, president of the Western Union division of the Commercial Telegraphers Union. Hageman had complained specifically that a new Telpak service is tending to take business from the Western Union Telegraph Co.

Telpak is a leased wire service offering various forms of communication.

Hageman said that although AT&T was forced to divorce itself from the telegraph communications business many years ago, it retained the word "telegraph" in its company name and by 1960 total telegraphic revenues in the United States through teletype-writer and other forms of service.

"The time has come for our government to take action against this gigantic communications monopoly," Hageman wrote the Justice Department. "The Bell System has had a monopoly in voice communications for many years. It should be confined to that field and should be compelled to get out of the record (written) communications field.

In New York, an AT&T spokesman said the company had not heard directly from the Justice Department on the subject. He said the company did not have a copy of the Loevinger letter.

The company said it is still offering Telpak although only under certain restrictions in compliance with an FCC directive.

In April the company estimated there were 100 customers using Telpak.

'Old Pro' Barbara Stanwyck Is Back on Movie Stages

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Missy is back on the movie stages, and she has been missed.

As every Hollywood worker knows, Missy is the nickname for Barbara Stanwyck, who evokes an almost fanatical following among her fellow laborers in the movie mills. The reason is not only that she is a pro. She is also "one of the boys."

She laughs, kids and swears with the crew. They swear by her. So does the rest of the cast. She is a refreshing throwback to an era of professionalism.

Where has she been? She just finished a season in the TV jungles and won an Emmy for it. Before that, she admits she waited for the producers to call her. "Forty Guns" was her last film, and that was in 1957.

Producer Charles K. Feldman

called her for a role in "A Walk On the Wild Side."

"I'm playing a madam in the picture," she grinned. "Chalk up another first for Stanwyck."

The actress was sitting on the set, her feet propped up on the makeup table while her frankly gray hair was being prepared for the scene. She makes no secret of her age, which is 53. Nor does she conceal her eagerness to work.

"I'm always at my best when I'm on a picture," she said as she climbed a long flight of stars to the set. "I wouldn't know what to do with myself if I wasn't working."

Miss Stanwyck's Emmy win last week had a touch of irony. She won't be back next season in the medium that supplied her first major award. She never made it with Oscar, though she was nominated four times.

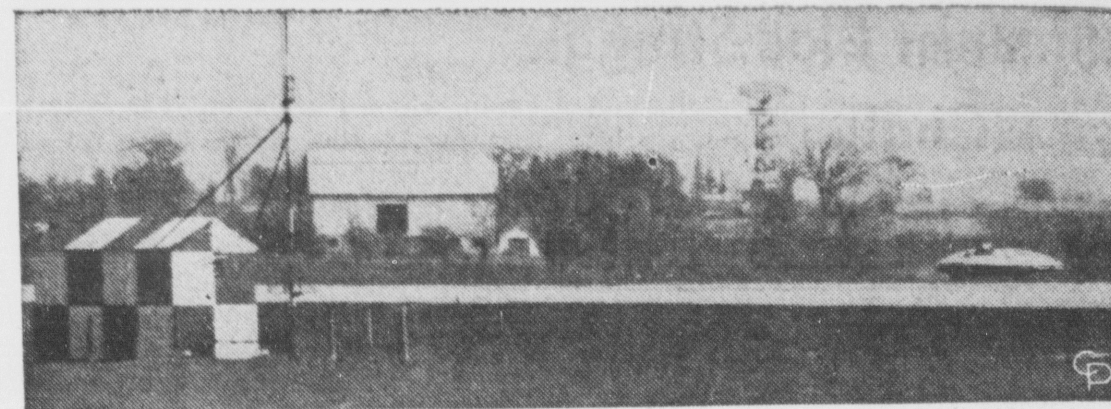

A writer suggests we observe National Skid Row Day. That, opines Zadok Dumkopf, sounds like a bum idea.

Divorce Asked; Wife Is Gone for 43 Years

CLEVELAND (AP) — William Dobbins sought a divorce in Common Pleas Court, on grounds his wife left him—43 years ago.

His attorney said Dobbins left to serve in World War I two months after he married. The divorce petition, filed Tuesday, said he returned in December of 1918 and found his wife, Sarah, had left with someone else. Dobbins said he had not heard from or seen her since.

Communist Bloc Struggle

An American — despite Laos, Cuba and Korea — might be bucked up quite a bit by an enumeration of troubles in the communist world if all are as they seem.

There is the food crisis in Red China which is frequently termed a famine. The reds are using skimpy cash resources to buy wheat from Australia and elsewhere which will be far short of needs. Peiping's appeal to Moscow for food and petroleum was met by an offer of sugar. Both Russia and China now have a glut of Cuban sugar.

Rivalries are said to be all but out in the open. Russia intruded in Laos, which Peiping regards as its territory. The Chinese retaliated by interfering in Cuba. They are also poaching on Russian preserves in Africa.

The Chinese reds are giving aid to Albania, which Russia hopes to convert into a strong Mediterranean base. Albania tentatively threatens to cause Russia a trouble, as Yugoslavia did.

Behind all this is a struggle for leadership in the communist bloc of nations. Russia has the lead now because of industrial and nuclear strength. The Chinese cannot make industrial gains because of food and other shortages. And Moscow will not help China to become a nuclear power.

All this is O. K. with the West — if true. It would be better if free world strategists found ways to exploit the alleged red schism in a way to stop communist gains.

What difference does it make how suspicious Khrushchev and Mao are of each other if they keep on picking up more of the world's real estate?

Remarks To Irk a College Senior

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Remarks a college senior, Class of 1961, gets tired of hearing:

"Well, Sidney, that four-year loaf on father's dough is about over."

"If he's the hope of tomorrow, the country might as well give up now and save itself a lot of trouble."

"The starting salary is only $75, there are no fringe benefits and you'll be on the road three weeks out of four but we feel the opportunity for personal advancement is unlimited for anyone who gets kicked out of good old-fashioned hard work."

"Naturally no student will be allowed to graduate who has failed to pay his college library fines. The sum you still owe is $87.64."

"Your father says it is perfectly all right with him if you go ahead and get married the day after graduation—that is if you are prepared to support a wife. He says he is able to support only one wife himself—me, your darling mother."

"I know you majored in international economic problems, my boy, but our firm makes zippers. We're looking for a young fellow full of fire and zinger who can eat, sleep and talk zippers 24 hours a day, seven days a week."

"Frankly, Sidney, I think the talent scouts from some of these big corporations would show more interest in you if you'd just have off that silly looking beard."

"Look at it this way, kid. Just because you went to college no-body's going to hand you the world on a platter."

"The worst of it, as I see it, Sidney, is that from now on we'll have to wear a necktie every day the rest of our life."

"Remember, son, I'd be awful glad if you just came back and helped your old dad run the grocery store. If you put your mind to it, you can find a lot of romance in canned peas and pork chops."

"I tell you they're all spoiled today. Why, when I got out of college, we felt we were darned lucky if we got a job at $25 a week."

"If security is what you're looking for at your age, young fella, why don't you go out and get yourself arrested so you can go to jail. That's real security."

Revenue Service and Advertising

By George Sokolsky

By accident I came across the singular fact that the Timken Roller Bearing Company has had the courage to put up a fight for freedom of speech and freedom of the press against the Internal Revenue Service which acts as a censorship agency.

Timken is suing the Government for $1,500,000 which it claims it has overpaid for income taxes, the Internal Revenue Service having taken upon itself the duty of deciding that advertising is not a cost of running a business. This expenditure was taxed as though it were profit not an expense.

The Treasury objects to institutional advertising, that is, the use of advertising space paid to attract attention but delivering a message instead of directly advocating the use of a product.

Institutional advertising is used because the advertiser finds that a message attracts greater attention to the product than boosting the product itself. The Metropolitan Life Insurance Company has for many years used its advertising space to tell about health, its object is to prolong life.

On the other hand, these advertisements are keenly read because they are informative and are good business because they keep the name of the company before the public in a favorable manner. Whether it is a noble act or a gimmick, it is of value.

In the case of Timken, the Government objected to advertisements which "... hailed the Spirit of Christmas, urged gifts to the United Fund, presenting the company's side of a controversy with a union, and promoting the city in which the company's plant was located in the hope of attracting other employers to the area."

The Internal Revenue Service apparently sets up a censorship of the contents of an advertisement, assuming that it can determine the motive for the employment of the space for something more than directly pushing a product. Timken, I read, sponsored broadcasts by Fulton Lewis and George Sokolsky. These, too, were disallowed as tax deduction, presumably because we did not tell the listener to buy bubble gum. Also small newspaper advertisements proclaiming such broadcasts were disallowed.

Perhaps Timken should have broadcasted that roller bearings are not to be eaten or chewed or fed to babies because they might kill the creature but when used in machinery, no one could be hurt. Or maybe, the Internal Revenue Service prefers singers to speakers. I do not know what Fulton Lewis's singing voice is like, but the good Lord when he made provisions for Frank Sinatra and Sammy Davis Jr., probably felt that they were enough for one country and left me without a singing voice.

I can always tell when another is off-key, but I have been told that I am always off-key. So I cannot do my piece in song which apparently is permissible, particularly if no one understands the words. The Internal Revenue Service's censor must be very weary of such words as moon and June which are deductible because they are not controversial.

Businesses are taxed 52 per cent of net profit. Naturally, the accountants take off expenses of all kinds before they determine the net profit. The President has been appealing for business to provide more jobs, but the Treasury has been taking steps not only to price American goods out of all markets, including the American, but to give the European and Asiatic competitor every possible advantage. This is particularly true as regards expense accounts.

A West German salesman can afford to make the prospective customer to feel salubrious and willing by the normal processes of capitalistic sales procedures, namely, an excellent dinner, theater parties, flowers for the customer's wife, etc., etc. The American salesman is forced to justify his expenditures, providing details of the process, which can be embarrassing. We may be very virtuous but goods will not be sold that way and never were.

Perhaps the Internal Revenue Service needs an advertisement consultant so that someone might know of the developments in foreign business since the days when the principal advertisements were patent medicines and trusses. There has been progress even if the Internal Revenue Service did not hear of it.

LAFF-A-DAY

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A WALL STREET banker was plagued by incessant tooth-aches, and finally consulted a dentist who agreed to do the whole job for $500 in two weeks' time.

As he was leaving this dentist for the last time, a man in the waiting room with a badly swollen jaw stopped him and said, "You know, I had this fellow do the same job on me two years ago he's just finished for you."

"Was it a good job?" asked our hero, noticing the swollen jaw with some trepidation.

"I'll answer it this way," said the old patient. "I was out fishing last week. My wife was with me and, all of a sudden, she catches me with a big, ugly hook squarely in the seat of my pants."

"But what has that to do with your teeth?" the Wall Streeter wanted to know.

"That's the point I'm coming to," explained the old patient. "For the first time in two years, I didn't notice my teeth hurting!"

ASTRONAUT NEEDS MORE FLYING TIME—Apparently 15 minutes in a space capsule doesn't help much toward a military pilot's required 90 hours' flight time. Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard (left), first U.S. astronaut, and a companion astronaut, Deke Slayton, flew to Minneapolis to log more required flight time, and check over their flight plan for return hop.

Inside You and Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M.D.

Dear Doctor: Children are still dying from cystic fibrosis. We who are trying to educate the public about this serious illness would appreciate a less carefree attitude such as yours.

Mrs. F.J.S.

Dear Mrs. S.: All too often cystic fibrosis is a long-drawn-out fatal illness. Some cases aren't so severe. Many adults suffering from chronic bronchitis have turned out to be mild cystic fibrosis victims.

And while severe cystic fibrosis sufferers may not enjoy good health, they should be able to find happy activities to fill their days.

Dear Doctor: How long can I take Preludin diet pills safely? Do they cause other illness?

Mrs. E. P.

Dear Mrs. P.: You can take Preludin to erase your appetite as long as your doctor prescribes the pills. He'll know if they're causing any bad effects.

Relax, and melt away without worry!

Dear Doctor: What causes arms to swell after breast-cancer operations?

Six Ex-Cancer Patients
Dear Six: To insure removing every last bit of cancer, the surgeon cuts out lymph nodes (glands) and many blood vessels under the arm. After the operation, clots may form and clog large veins.

The swelling may stem from either the blocked lymph channels, which drain fluid up the arm, or from clogged veins blocking the circulation.

The swollen arm is a nuisance but much less of a nuisance than cancer!

Dear Doctor: Does eating fat, pork and grease turn blood to water?

My friend needs a transfusion every year or so. Doctors say she eats too much grease.

Mr. B. A.

Dear Mr. A.: Fats make blood milky but not watery. It's what you don't eat, rather than what you do, that causes most anemia.

With all that grease, the wrong explanation may have slipped out!

Dear Doctor: What would cause a loud crunching sound in my ears when I swallow?

Mrs. B. R.

Dear Mrs. R.: You may be hearing some arthritis in the joint where the jaw meets the temple in front of the ear. Or perhaps you hear a partially clogged tube — which connects the back of the nose to the ear just inside the eardrum — open and then close again.

Try nose sprays. If this fails, find an ear specialist who can peek in through that little lighted funnel.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—Many companies own blocks of common stock of other corporations. Some of these portfolios may get a closer scrutiny of corporate-lawyers in the wake of the Supreme Court decision that Du Pont must divest itself of its 63 million General Motors shares.

But the vast majority of stock holdings by other firms probably won't come under the antitrust decision. This frowns on such ownership if the court finds a reasonable likelihood that restraint of commerce or creation of a monopoly might result.

Corporate treasurers insist that in almost all instances such holdings are for other reasons.

Some buying of stocks in other companies is frankly to gain control of them. In only a comparatively few cases has this been held to result in the monopoly or restraint of trade which the antitrust laws forbid.

Other stocks have been acquired as payment when one company buys a part of the assets or a subsidiary company of another.

Most of the hundreds of corporate portfolios that contain other companies' shares hold them for investment reasons primarily.

The corporate treasurer has cash on hand and sees a greater return from common stocks than from buying government securities or other forms of savings. So he buys some stocks.

Often they are in firms in the same field as his own company. Many times long held stocks are in corporations that supply or buy from the holding firm. Sometimes the shares are just good buys in entirely unrelated fields.

For example, one of Du Pont's chemical rivals owns shares in a synthetic textile firm, a steel company and two glass makers.

As a different kind of example, a mining and shipping firm holds sizable blocks of stock in steel, coal, mining and petroleum companies.

And for a third example, a utility company holds shares in a textile company.

Some companies that got shares of another as payment for a business deal distribute them later.

As an example, Indiana Standard Oil from time to time for several years has been handing out to its shareholders as dividend payments in Jersey Standard Oil it got a long time ago.

Some of the big holdings in other firms have been acquired since World War II as part of the trend to diversification. In some cases, the purchasing company has acquired all or a majority of the stock of a firm in a different field. Sometimes it has bought only sizable percentages.

In both cases the idea was that if the original company's business turns sour temporarily, it's holding in other fields may well be bringing in pleasant returns on the investment, making the buyer's over-all financial picture better than it might have been.

When you want to frost bar cookies that have been baked in a 9-inch square pan, you'll need to use 1 1/2 cups sifted confectioners sugar moistened with a little milk or cream plus the desired flavoring.

Fold half a cup of heavy cream (that has been whipped, sweetened and flavored with vanilla) into half a cup of applesauce; serve over squares of warm spice cake.

Friday fare: add cooked shrimp to a meatless tomato sauce and serve over spaghetti. Pass grated cheese.

If you want your pancakes to be well-shaped, round and even-sized, pour the batter from a small ladle or a one-quarter cup measure.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Straightening Needed

DEAR ABBY: I have a relative who was just about ready to give up when someone asked her to get married. She is 52 and he is 50. Please don't faint, but she is planning to be married in a white wedding gown with a veil, the bouquet, bridesmaids and everything that goes with it. She has gray hair and looks every bit her 52 years. I am afraid people in this town will think she has gone crazy. Don't you think someone in the family should step in and set her straight?

INTERESTED RELATIVE
DEAR INTERESTED: I see nothing wrong with the bride's plans. Someone should set her relatives straight.

DEAR ABBY: I am a high school senior and have never been in trouble before. I have been accused of stealing a purse. I did not steal it, Abby, I found it on my way to school and there was no name or anything in it. I suppose I should have turned it in somewhere but I didn't know where to turn it in, so I took it to school and started to use it. I was called into the principal's office. It was stolen from one of the girls at school. A girl whose name they wouldn't tell me said she heard me tell another girl I stole it and not to say anything. Now the whole school is against me. I swear I didn't steal that purse. How can an innocent person protect herself against gossip?

INNOCENT
DEAR INNOCENT: Quit trying to disprove guilt that does not exist. The word of the girl who claimed she heard you say you stole it should have been disregarded until she agreed to face you with the accusation. Forget it, my dear. And other will.

DEAR ABBY: I was born in America but have been on ships all my life. I have never seen anything like the way the American women girdle themselves in and strap themselves up. It really gets me. I do not know who they think they are kidding with all those wires, elastic devices and contraptions to hold them in place. When they get home and take their girdles off, they spread out like a baseball field.

BACHELOR
DEAR BACHELOR: How do YOU know?

DEAR ABBY: It sure enough burns me up to hear the way some of those Yankees make fun of the way we Southerners talk. When we say, "You all," we mean "All of you." No Southerner would ever say what that lady from Brooklyn said to the man from Virginia - "Drop dead, you all" - unless she meant for everyone in Virginia to drop dead. If she can't talk properly, she should hush up her mouth.

FROM GEORGIA

Yes, Abby will answer your letter personally if you write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif., and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Did Father-Son Swindlers Have Help in Stock Deals?

EDITOR'S NOTE—The Securities and Exchange Commission last week announced it will investigate the American Stock Exchange in the wake of charges of price rigging and illegal stock sales by two of its important members. This is the second of four articles unmarrying the situation. The author, Frank Cormier, reports financial affairs in Washington for The Associated Press.

By FRANK CORMIER
WASHINGTON (AP)—Did Jerry and Gerard Re enlist any fellow members of the American Stock Exchange as willing helpers in their alleged massive manipulations of that important market? This is a question which investigators from the Securities and Exchange Commission presumably will try to answer as they

Ohio Woman Is Tied To Florida Robbery

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Sarah Koffel, 27, of East Liverpool, Ohio, has been put on probation for her part in a laundry robbery that netted $11,720. She is the ex-wife of Donald Watkin who, with former North Miami Beach City Judge George Jackman, was found guilty Friday of masterminding the robbery of the Riverside Laundry on June 12, 1959. Jackman and Watkin each was sentenced to six months to five years in state prison.

Is 'Cradle of Liberty' Just a Fire Trap Now?

BOSTON (AP)—Is Faneuil Hall, historical "cradle of liberty" a fire trap? The National Fire Protection Association said the 219-year-old meeting hall of colonial times has inadequate entrances and exits, narrow staircases, no sprinkler system, an undesirable quality of electrical wiring and a trash fire hazard exists on the first floor and basement.

probe the "rules, policies, practices and procedures" of the exchange, the second largest in New York City and the nation.

SEC lawyers already have stated that some exchange members, wittingly or not, aided the Res by purchasing certain stocks at strategic times. Only one member has been named in this connection, however, and no action has been taken against him.

The Res, father and son, have been expelled from the exchange by the SEC, which held they illegally peddled nearly $10 million in stocks in rigged markets between 1954 and 1960.

Now the SEC is inspecting the exchange itself to see if it gives investors adequate protection.

Edward T. McCormick, president of the exchange, says the inquiry is welcomed and recent reforms will discourage anyone from trying to imitate the Res.

As specialists, the Res were responsible for maintaining fair and orderly trading in about 20 stocks. They conducted the daily auction in these securities.

According to the SEC brief in the case, the two men prostituted their vital role and did "many millions of dollars of harm to thousands of unsuspecting investors."

The brief said they got help from exchange floor traders — members who speculate for their own account.

Edward J. Garrett, vice president of the Loral Electronics Corp., gave the SEC testimony that financier Jennis M. Doroshaw once told him "there were many other people on the floor" working with Jerry Re in one alleged manipulation. Doroshaw denied this.

The reported manipulation occurred Oct. 25, 1954 and involved the common stock of Thompson-Starrett Co., Inc. The stock closed that day at a two-year high of $4.40 a share. Trading was unusually heavy at 42,400 shares.

"At least 34 per cent of that volume," according to the brief, "can be traced to exchange members or their wives."

In discussing price rigging, the brief said the Res also used several methods to push up stock price by "painting the tape"—creating the appearance of trading activity to whet the public appetite.

The brief said they spread rumors that certain stocks were sure to skyrocket. They wine and dined brokers and fed them a side order of hot tips. They had friends and acquaintances make strategic purchases.

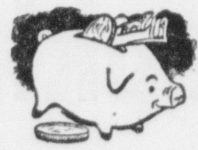

Bernard (Toots) Shor, the New York restaurateur, bought 1,000 shares of Thompson-Starrett after Jerry Re touted the stock at a testimonial dinner for Vincent F. Albano Jr., a Republican leader on Manhattan's East Side. Albano bought 10,000.

Others who took investment cues from Jerry Re included some of his good friends in the baseball world: Chuck Dressen, manager of the Milwaukee Braves and Cookie Lavagetto, manager of the Minnesota Twins.

The brief said the stocks which the Res sold illegally were obtained from corporation officials who, it claimed, wanted to dispose of large blocks without registering them with the SEC, as normally required by law. These officials usually were willing to sell in private deals at prices below those prevailing in the market, the brief added.

The losers, it said, were the many public investors "who had every reason to expect that the exchange market in which they dealt was honest and fair."

LeMay Seen Advocate of B70 Bomber

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Curtis E. LeMay's advent as Air Force chief of staff may signal a new effort to win an administration go-ahead for the 2,000-mile-an-hour B70 bomber.

LeMay a veteran bomber pilot and first chief of the Strategic Air Command, is an exponent of the B70 and a believer in the concept of a mixed bomber-missile force as a main deterrent to enemy attack for some years to come.

An associate of the incoming staff chief said LeMay believes the B70 is needed and that the general doesn't want to see it canceled or delayed.

This LeMay associate contended the B70 project has not been abandoned; that the Kennedy administration has reached no final decision. He spoke in terms of presenting a case for the B70 "in court," apparently meaning the highest levels of the administration.

Generally, the source familiar with LeMay's thinking said he expected "no radical changes" when the bluff, vigorous, 54-year-old general takes over from retiring General Thomas D. White July 1.

LeMay has been vice chief under White for four years, the source noted, and thus has worked with White in developing policies and practices now in effect.

But where White was an appointee of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, LeMay is President Kennedy's choice—and thus may have more influence at the top of the current administration than White could exert.

Six Policies
Permit Loans
For Veterans

James P. Shea, veterans' service officer, announced today that veterans may obtain loans on six permanent insurance plans. They are 20-pay life; 30-pay life; ordinary life; 20-year endowment; endowment at age 60; and endowment at age 65.

Shea stated, "In financial emergencies, veterans who hold permanent GI life insurance benefit more if they borrow on their policies rather than cash them in to raise money."

GI policyholders may borrow up to 94 percent of the cash surrender value of their permanent plan policies. Only GI term insurance has no loan value, Shea added.

Even if the veteran borrows the limit permissible on his policy, the policy remains in effect, although the protection is reduced until the loan is repaid, Shea explained. All protection ceases when the policy is surrendered for cash, he said, because once the GI policy is cancelled, it cannot be restored.

Annual interest on GI policy loans is computed on the unpaid balance, and should be paid on or before the due date, the service officer emphasized. Should a veteran die before repaying the loan in full, the unpaid balance is deducted from the policy proceeds before the beneficiaries are paid.

For further information concerning a loan on GI insurance, contact should be made with Shea in his office in the basement of the county courthouse.

He is a 1928 graduate of Circleville High School and works in employment placement at the Federal Reformatory in Chillicothe. He and his wife, Garnet, live at 510 S. Scioto St.

Marlon's Influence

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Here's a girl's-eye view of Marlon Brando:

"Dating Marlon was very interesting but he is such a complex person that I think I would end up more confused than enlightened."

That comes from Barbara Luma, the pretty Eurasian actress who used to date him. But she went on:

"But he did help me a lot. When I first met Marlon, I was so full of 'I don't know's'. I graduated from high school at 15 and I never had much education after that. I never claimed to be an intellectual. He brought a lot of subjects into my life that I had never discussed before, like politics and religion, even wrestling. I learned a lot from him, but it almost gave me an inferiority complex."

If you are substituting hydrogenated fat for butter or margarine in a baked product, you'll probably have to increase the amount of salt. You'll need at least 1/4 teaspoon salt for every half-cup of fat.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Negroes' efforts to end segregation in the South through direct but passive action—such as sit-ins and bus rides by Negroes and white sympathizers—raises a haunting question.

Would this country be closer to total desegregation if a quarter century ago Negroes had begun their present tactics instead of deciding on the long, slow road through the courts?

Back in the 1930s the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People instead of direct action, began a fight, step by painful step through the courts to have segregation declared unconstitutional.

Before ever trying to get the court to outlaw public school segregation, a truly explosive area, the NAACP fought to get schools on the higher levels desegregated through court action.

Negroes emerge from church wiping their eyes. Tear gas was thrown into the church by someone in the jeering mob.

U. S. marshals wearing armbands place themselves between angry mob and the First Baptist Church in Montgomery.

CYO Schedules Swimming Party

The regular monthly meeting of the Catholic Youth Organization of St. Joseph Parish was held Sunday in the basement of the church. The meeting was conducted by Tom Stocklen.

Plans were made for the members to have a wiener roast and swimming party at Rocky Fork June 18.

Following the meeting, the eighth grade graduating class of St. Joseph School were initiated into the CYC. Entertainment and refreshments were enjoyed by all the members.

The CYC will attend the 10:15

a. m. Mass and receive Holy Communion as a group on June 18. The regular meeting will be included in the outing that afternoon.

Ohio Health Chief
OK'd as Teacher

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The attorney general ruled Tuesday that Dr. Ralph E. Dwork can be paid both as state health director and as a part-time teacher at Ohio State University.

Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy's opinion was sought by State Auditor James A. Rhodes. The auditor said Dwork is teaching and receiving salaries from the College of Medicine and School of Nursing at Ohio State, in addition to being compensated for his health director's post.

McElroy said that Dwork's teaching, on Thursday evenings and Saturdays, does not conflict with his duties as director of health.

By James Marlow

As long ago as 1946 the court outlawed segregation on interstate buses, although you might not think so in view of the white mob riots last week in Alabama over buses carrying so-called "freedom riders" of whites and Negroes.

The NAACP's crowning achievement was the Supreme Court's May 17, 1954 decision against public school segregation. All the court's previous anti-segregation rulings didn't have the impact of this.

Out of it flowed the bitterest Southern white antagonism, the determination to make a last-ditch fight in defiance to the court, the Little Rock riots of 1957 and, as an end product, the Alabama riots last week.

Negroes became more confident of breaking down all the Southern segregation barriers with the government now compelled to intervene, even with federal troops, to back up the authority of the court.

Bit by bit the NAACP lost its role as the almost exclusive champion and spokesman for Negroes. Other Negro groups came into existence determined to fight faster and more directly against all forms of desegregation.

This is particularly true among Southern Negro students who took the non-violent but still direct action of picketing and sit-ins. The first big example of the new policy came about six years ago in Montgomery, Ala.

There Negroes put an economic squeeze on the white-dominated city by boycotting the buses. New Negro leaders, operating outside the NAACP, emerged, like the Rev. Martin Luther King who led the bus boycott.

But the original question still remains: Would Negroes have moved faster toward desegregation if they had chosen the direct action road 25 years ago instead of the slower course taken by the NAACP? This writer thinks so.

For this reason: The psychological climate wasn't right. Neither were the circumstances.

1. Africa was still a collection of European colonies. Only in recent years have African Negroes begun to assert themselves and gain independence. This gave encouragement to Negroes everywhere to fight directly for their rights.

2. The United States, seeking to lead the non-Communist world, is made self-conscious every time there is an anti-Negro outburst in this country.

3. The Supreme Court decisions against segregation have split Southerners' thinking, even of those who may favor segregation but realize there can be only anarchy if the court's rulings are ignored or violated.

4. The court's rulings, coming one at a time over years, have conditioned both the country and the South into realization that segregation had to end.

5. The court itself, more than 60 years ago, had approved segregation and considered it constitutional so long as segregated Negroes got treatment equal to that given whites. They did not, of course.

But with the Supreme Court on the side of segregation, Negroes were handcuffed. Any demonstrations could have been suppressed on the ground they were violating state segregation laws. The government could have done little or nothing to help, until the supreme Court reversed itself.

6. Now the situation is different. With the court throwing out various Southern segregation laws, the federal government can back up Negroes protesting segregation, as it did in Little Rock and on the buses.

DuPont Stock
Deal To Bring Tax Claims

WASHINGTON (AP)—If stockholders in E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co. are to get any relief from a possible $1 billion tax liability the initiative may have to come from President Kennedy's administration.

There were indications today Congress is not inclined to act unless the executive branch gives a nudge.

The tax claim was foreshadowed when the Supreme Court held Monday that Du Pont must give up its multibillion dollar holdings of General Motors Corp. stock.

The stock would have to be distributed among Du Pont stockholders. And Du Pont President Crawford H. Greenwalt said "hundreds of thousands of innocent stockholders" will be hit with taxes on the value of the stock as ordinary income unless Congress acts.

He estimated the total tax bill as likely exceeding $1 billion.

Committees of both the House and Senate have wrestled in the past with the problem of forced divestitures like the one involved in the present case, but neither chamber has ever passed a bill for special treatment of the income.

Billboard Ban Gets Nod in Ohio House

With one eye on a $100 million federal incentive bonus for gear- ing state billboard control laws to U.S. regulations, and the other on a June 30 deadline for doing so, the House voted Tuesday to bring Ohio's laws into conformity.

Only highways on the interstate system — for which the federal government pays 90 per cent of construction cost — are affected, and only the sections not governed by municipal commercial zoning. Business advertising signs visible to motorists are banned within 660 feet of the pavement.

The state highway director would be responsible for removing the signs or having courts order them removed. A maximum fine of $1,000 is provided.

The bill, which now goes to the Senate, carries an emergency clause because of the June 30 deadline. Thus, if the Senate and governor go along with the House, it becomes effective immediately instead of in 90 days.

The House acted on another measure containing an emergency clause, the time element in this case being next fall when council- men in 738 villages will be elected under a new law providing four- year terms.

To get the system started, the bill provides that the four candi- dates getting the largest vote will earn four-year terms, and the two with the next highest tally will get two-year terms.

This and another measure—au- thorizing the Utilities Commission to apportion cost to railroad cross- ing warning devices among state and local government and the rail- road—now go to the Senate. Both have been in the upper chamber before, but the Senate must concur in changes made by the House, or differences ironed out.

Sensors also acted on House- approved bills to:

Make officials of political sub- divisions notify the county auditor when they plan to make public improvements and levy assess- ments to pay the cost.

Allow a person holding a county office to serve as an officer or member of a county agricultural society.

Modify the penalty for failing to transfer license plates from one vehicle to another within the re- quired 10 days.

The Senate defeated a bill au- thorizing the governor to sell a tract in Hocking County for coal mining. According to Sen. William H. Deddens, R-Hamilton, the land is "ministerial"—set aside by Con- gress for support of churches—and the state has no authority to convey it or mineral rights under it to anyone.

The House defeated a bill to al- low county commissioners to sell bonds for improvements to public buildings without first getting ap- proval from the public by submit- ting the question to a vote.

Health Unit Program Helps Patients To Assist Selves

Editor's Note: This is the last in a series of four articles prepared by Dr. Frank Moore, county health commissioner, outlining the func- tions of the County Health Depart- ment.

Chronic Disease program:

The Health Department staff at- tempts to provide, in so far as our personnel limitations will permit, a counseling service for those per- sons afflicted with one of the "chronic" diseases such as diabe- tes, cancer, heart defect and oth- ers.

They are termed "chronic" since they are often difficult to eliminate from the patient and frequently reappear after the person affected has been thought cured.

We concentrate a good deal of this work in the area of rheuma- tic fever. Persons affected with this disease are given free penicil- lin treatments. The State Health Department furnishes the medi- cine and the local staff supervises its distribution in Pickaway Coun- ty.

Any physician may request this antibiotic for a patient with rheu- matic fever history.

WE ALSO attempt to instruct the chronically affected in any dis- ease area the rudiments of car- ing for themselves, such as the in- struction offered to diabetics in giving shots to themselves.

Families of patients are taught home care. We also contact com- munity service agencies to obtain public assistance if it is request- ed by the family or patient.

Our department con- tacts private physicians periodically to offer any services which we might have available.

An important part of our work is maintaining close and mutu- ally respected relationships with family doctors.

If tests are required in any case in which the Health Department is involved, they are performed by the Ohio Department of Health Laboratory in Columbus.

Rehabilitation:

A specially-trained rehabilitation consultant comes to Circleville once a month to consult with lo- cal officials on patients undergoing social or physical therapy and advise persons being rehabilitated.

This consultant is under the di- rect supervision of the State De- partment of Education and is cer- tificated by officials of that unit.

WE recently handled a case of a young woman who had been given treatment resulting in the ar- resting of her tuberculosis condi- tion.

The rehabilitation consultant ad- vised the girl to register for a busi- ness education course offered in a nearby city. She completed this training and is now successfully employed in a business office.

Basically this is the purpose of any rehabilitation program; to give persons who have suffered serious illness the opportunity to lead a useful, productive life.

In Summing Up:

Our department establishes and attempts to encourage high stand- ards of public and private health throughout the entire county.

We have but limited funds and personnel with which to maintain our program; therefore we relay to a great extent upon the indi- vidual's sense of community respon- sibility in making Pickaway Coun- ty a cleaner, healthier place in which to live.

IF ANY person has a question concerning the operations of the Health Department or wishes to solicit our assistance he should feel free to come to our offices on the first floor of the Courthouse any time we are open.

As a department of the public government we feel that we have one major duty to perform — to safeguard the health and welfare of our citizens.

Death Ends Colorful Life Of Joan Davis

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)— The entertainment world is mourning Joan Davis, often called "the queen of comedy" whose zany antics and tall-girl acro- batics brought laughter to mil- lions.

Her death of a heart attack Tuesday at 48 ended a specta- cular career in virtually all theatri- cal media — stage, screen, radio and finally television.

Jim Backus, who co-starred in Miss Davis' highly successful TV series, "I Married Joan," wired her family: "The nation has lost a great lady and the foremost feminine talent in her field."

The blonde comedienne was stricken Monday night at her desert home where she had lived quietly in semi-retirement. Physicians at an emergency hospi- tal labored in vain to save her life.

The actress' last publicized ro- mance, with realtor Harvey Stock 35, ended in 1959 when she charged her suitor knocked her down during an argument. She was divorced from Serenus Willis in 1947 after 16 years of marriage.

Miss Davis, who began her the- atical career in vaudeville at the age of 7, once was the highest paid woman on radio, ranking only behind Bob Hope and Jack Benny.

As an actress, she portrayed a frustrated, luckless, gawky fe- male. In private life, she was an attractive woman who spoke in a quiet voice and dressed smart- ly.

Rosary will be recited Friday and Mass will be said Saturday at St. Paul's Church, Los An- geles.

Panel of Six Operated for Ailing Ike

NEW YORK (AP)—An unofficial committee of six ran the government during the two months following President Eisenhower's heart attack in 1955, says Sherman Adams.

The stand-in group, said Adams, consisted of himself, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell, Treasury Secretary George Humphrey and presidential aide Wilton Persons.

Adams, who served as Eisenhower's assistant from 1952 to 1958, makes this disclosure in an installment of his memoirs, appearing in Life magazine.

Writing of the days following the first of three Eisenhower illnesses while he was in the White House, Adams says:

"There never was a move on the part of any of us to 'seize power' or to take an unwarranted action that Eisenhower would have disapproved. We made sure that normal activities of the government went on as usual."

Adams writes that after Eisenhower's heart attack in 1955, the President "placed in his file a letter to the vice president covering an understanding between them of the procedure that would be followed in the event of a presidential disability."

Adams said he never saw the agreement, but added that Eisenhower told him about it.

It provided, Adams writes, that "if the president became disabled, he would inform the vice president who would then serve as acting president until the period of disability ended."

Lancaster Branch Classes Successful

Classes will end for the second semester for the Ohio University Lancaster Branch College May 27.

The fifth year of the branch college has been the most successful so far as enrollment is concerned, since the branch's beginning in 1956, officials said.

The Lancaster Branch is the third largest of the six branches of Ohio University. Only the Portsmouth and Chillicothe branches have a greater enrollment.

The Branch office will be open daily 1:00 to 4:00, until June 15, for the convenience of those wishing to register early.

Eichmann Tied To Slayings of Lidice Children

JERUSALEM (AP) — Adolf Eichmann was charged today with the murder of the children of Lidice.

The Israeli prosecution presented documents blazng a trail from the famous village in Czechoslovakia to Eichmann's door in the Berlin office of the Gestapo.

The evidence retold how Czech patriots killed Reinhard Heydrich, the Nazi security police chief, near Lidice on June 4, 1942, and how the Nazis in reprisal razed the town, plowed it over and transported the population to death camps.

One document showed Eichmann was in Prague at the time.

Gestapo files disclosed that 88 Lidice children, orphaned by the firing squads, were sent to Lodz. Seven of them were described as "fit for Germanization" and they were scattered through Germany in foster homes. The remaining 81 vanished without a trace and undoubtedly died in one of the Polish murder mills.

The most telling file contained a letter from SS Lt. Col. Hermann Krumei at Lodz to Eichmann's office in Berlin requesting advice on what to do with the 81 "unfit" children.

The answer was "special treatment," which in Eichmann's office for Jewish affairs meant the gas chambers of Auschwitz.

Kennedy To Rest Before Long Trip

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy will fly to Hyannis Port, Mass., Saturday night for a week-end of rest before starting on a European tour, the White House announced today.

Kennedy will leave Washington immediately after he addresses a $100-a-plate Democratic dinner honoring his birthday at the National Guard Armory here Saturday evening.

He has no activities scheduled for Sunday.

Andrew T. Hatcher, assistant White House press secretary, said the President will fly to Boston Monday afternoon, arriving at Logan Airport about 4:30 p.m. He will ride in a motorcade to the Statler Hotel, where he will meet area Democratic leaders, and then motor to the Sheraton Plaza at approximately 6:30 p.m.

From there he will go to the Boston Armory where he will address a birthday dinner sponsored by the Massachusetts Democratic State Central Committee. His speech is scheduled for 9:15 p.m. It will be carried by radio only.

Lorain Steel Mill To Recall 500 Aides

LORAIN, Ohio (AP) — US Steel Corp.'s National Tube Division says it will recall about 500 laid-off workers here by the end of the month. Employment at the Lorain Works plant will be 7,350 when the recalls are completed, a spokesman said.

A fourth blast furnace was lit at the plant Tuesday. Two more open-hearth furnaces go into production Sunday. The spokesman attributed stepped-up production to increased demand for steel.

After the dinner, he will fly back to Hyannis Port and stay there until Tuesday at 3 p.m., when he takes off for New York, landing at Idlewild Airport at about 4:10 p.m.

Kennedy will confer for about an hour with Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion of Israel in the President's suite at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel beginning at 4:45 p.m.

The White House said Mrs. Kennedy will remain in Washington during the weekend, then join her husband in New York Tuesday afternoon.

Tuesday evening Kennedy will speak at a dinner arranged by the Eleanor Roosevelt Cancer Research Foundation in the Waldorf. The White House said it had not yet been determined whether the speech, slated for 8:10 p.m., will be carried on television or radio.

After the dinner, the Kennedys will drive to Idlewild and take off for Paris. They arrive the next day, when Kennedy begins his meetings with President Charles de Gaulle. Kennedy will confer at the end of the week with Soviet Premier Khrushchev in Vienna and meet British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan in London on June 5 before returning to Washington.

Replogle Crew Participates in New Record Claim

A West Virginia State Road Commission crew, in conjunction with a C. F. Replogle Circleville crew, yesterday claimed a record for length of highway paved in one day on the interstate system in West Virginia.

R. D. Bryant, head of the commission's Huntington District 2, said 5,365 feet of concrete was laid from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m. Monday on Interstate 64 just east of the city limits.

The Replogle crew was composed of 95 men and State Road Commission men numbered 15.

The local Replogle firm holds a $1,500,000 contract for 4.785 miles of the West Virginia highway construction project.

Dayton Widow Fatally Shot in Her Home

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A widow was shot fatally in the kitchen of her Dayton home Tuesday night while her two children slept in another room. Police said Mrs. Jailey Thirkield, 39, was shot in the head.

Esther Fugate, a cousin who lived at the home, said they were aroused from sleep by someone at the side door. Mrs. Thirkield talked with a man for a few moments and then a shot was fired. The children Carrie, 7, and Robbie, 5, slept through the shooting.

Clevelander Thumps Tribe For Angels

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A lot of the Cleveland Indians know Ken McBride's address, but none of them seems to have his number.

McBride, who has a home in Cleveland and rents it to ball-players employed there, acquired a disgusted tenant Tuesday night by pitching a three-hitter for the Los Angeles Angels as they belted the Indians 9-0.

The 25-year-old right-hander not only became the first man to achieve a shutout for the Angels but also the first pitcher to shut out the Indians this season. The loss dropped the Indians 4½ games behind league-leading Detroit and broke their winning streak at six games.

Probably the most dismayed Indian of all was pitcher Jim Perry—who happens to be the current occupant of McBride's home.

While his landlord was picking up his fourth victory in six decisions, Perry was taking his third loss in five decisions. And it was not gently administered.

Ken Hunt and Earl Averill hit a three-run homer apiece off the long, lean right-hander and Leon Wagner got one with the bases empty.

Perry, who won 18 games last season, now has gone exactly a month without a victory. He lasted five innings Tuesday night and was charged with eight runs, five of them earned.

McBride, meanwhile, was a little erratic in spots, giving up five walks and making one wild pitch. The Indians got three men as far as third base and had the bases loaded in one inning. But the only hits off McBride were singles by Johnny Temple and Jim Piersall and a double by John Romano.

International Race Is Close

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A turn of the head or a blink of the eye might be dangerous when looking at the International League standings.

Only five games separate the first seven teams today, and there are three and a half between league-leader Columbus and sixth-place Buffalo.

Both third-place Rochester and fourth-place Richmond took a half stride closer to the top Tuesday night. Rochester rapped second-place Charleston 3-2 and the Virginians stopped Buffalo 2-1. Jersey City, in fifth, was beaten by last-place Syracuse 7-2. Columbus and Toronto were idle.

Rochester scored the clinder in the last of the ninth on Fred Valentine's bases-loaded single after Bobby Johnson's two-run homer tied the score. An unearned run in the seventh inning broke a 1-3 tie for Richmond as Ted Wienand scattered eight hits for the victory. Syracuse surprised the Jerseys with a display of power as Frank Leja hit a solo homer and Joe Altobelli and Woody Smith each clouded one with a man aboard.

Sportsmen, Rifle Club Join For Operation as One Unit

The Pickaway County Farmers and Sportsmen Assn. and the Pickaway County Rifle and Pistol Club have combined forces as operating organizations.

According to spokesmen, the two clubs still will bear separate titles, but one group of officers and directors will govern both organizations.

They said the only exception is Dick Redman who will serve as secretary and executive officer of the Rifle and Pistol Club. His duties will consist of organizing competitive shoots between members and other clubs and working toward organization of hunter safety courses for young people interested in shooting.

At present the Rifle and Pistol Club has a rifle range located at the southeast corner of the Pickaway County Fairgrounds. Members currently are fencing it in and plan to repair the firing lines.

THEY said they plan to have the range in top shape by June 1. A 22 caliber match is scheduled June 4, with awards slated for top shooters.

Redman pointed out only 22 caliber firing will be allowed at the range for members and guests only. He said firing of heavier caliber weapons will be conducted on 100,200, and 500 - yard ranges at the Chillicothe Federal Reformatory. Matches are slated there using 30 caliber M1 service rifles.

Redman said it is hoped new members will be added as the club progresses.

Officers for the Farmers and Sportsmen Assn. are Walter Richards, president; Dr. H. W. Fraas, vice president; Robert Wolf, treasurer; and Robert Rader, treasurer.

Option Clause Heading for Day in Court

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Veteran pro basketball star Kenny Sears filed a suit Tuesday that could lead to the first court test of the option clause used in many professional sports contracts.

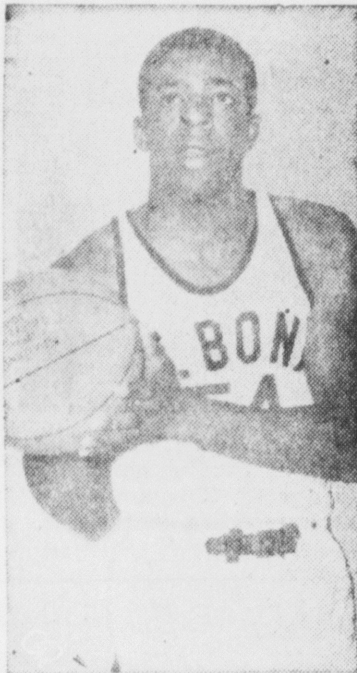

In the suit, filed against his old team, the New York Knickerbockers, Sears charged that the National Basketball Association and its teams "agreed not to compete for the service of players, agreed to regulate and limit salaries, and agreed to blacklist players who refused to play for the teams by which they had been selected (drafted)."

Sears, 28, a 6-foot-9 sharpshooter and rebounder, jumped the Knicks earlier this year and signed with the San Francisco Saints of the new American Basketball League.

The Knicks sued to keep Sears. His counter-suit in U.S. District Court here charged the Knickerbockers with monopoly and violation of antitrust acts. He asked $90,000 treble damages from the Graham-Paige Corp., of Michigan, owners of the New York NBA team.

The Sears suit drew the legal battle lines between the established NBA and the fledgling ABL, scheduled to begin play next season.

In his suit, Sears claimed he had not been free to negotiate with potential employers the past four years and that this had cost him $30,000. Under provisions of the Sherman and Clayton antitrust acts, Sears is seeking treble damages.

Meeting Tonight For BR Coaches

Major and minor Babe Ruth League team managers will meet at 8 p. m. today in the Armory, Chet Iery, league player agent, has announced.

Uniforms will be distributed during the conference. The mentors should bring their rosters and equipment lists.

LL Managers Set To Meet

Preparations for the Little League season, which opens June 5, will move into high gear tomorrow night.

All managers and their assistants of both major and minor LL squads will meet with Lee Smith, league player agent, at 7:30 p. m. Thursday at the National Guard Armory on E. Franklin St.

Smith will distribute uniforms to the coaches and the group will discuss general operating plans for the season. Managers are requested to bring their roster lists and duplicate copies of their equipment supply lists.

2 Teams Wooing Mississippi Star

GRENADA, Miss. (AP) — Jake Gibbs, already a legendary athlete in the Frank Merriwell tradition in Mississippi, today will sign a professional baseball contract at a bonus estimated near $100,000.

The two-sport All-America won't say which team he plans to sign with.

It was speculated that the 22-year-old Gibbs would pick the New York Yankees of the American League or the Milwaukee Braves of the National League.

Major league scouts followed both the diamond and gridiron exploits of Gibbs during the last two years of his college career. Baseball scouts even watched Gibbs' football performances in every Ole Miss game since the Grenada athlete caught the eye of the baseball world.

Former second baseman Billy Hitchcock is managing the Vancouver Mounties, Milwaukee's farm team in the Pacific Coast League.

GRAND SLAMMER—A new major league record is on the books following the performance of Jim Gentle (above) of the Baltimore Orioles in Metropolitan Stadium, Minneapolis. Gentle hit grand slam homers in consecutive innings against the Minnesota Twins.

AL Boss Favors Return of Spitball

BOSTON (AP) — Joe Cronin, president of the American League, said today he favors reinstatement of the spitball as a legal pitch in baseball.

"There's nothing dangerous or bad about the spitter," Cronin said. "I had to bat against both and I'll tell you a good knuckleball is much harder to hit than a spitball."

Cronin's comments came after Chicago Manager Al Lopez complained to the league office about alleged use of the spitter by Ryne Duren, the ex-Yankee relief pitcher recently traded to Los Angeles. The White Sox asked Cronin: "What are you going to do about the spitball?"

Scioto Edges Past Monroe

Scioto got only one hit, a second-inning single by John Hudson, but scored four times on Monroe errors and walks to defeat the Indians, 4-3, Tuesday on the loser's home field.

The Buffalos tallied their first run in the bottom of the fourth frame after Monroe had opened scoring with a single marker in the top of the fourth.

The score remained deadlocked through the fifth inning, but Scioto wrapped up its fifth victory against four defeats in the sixth stanza with a three-run outburst.

All of Scioto's runs were scored without benefit of a base hit. Walks and a quartet of Monroe fescues paved the way for the winning tally.

MONROE opened up a comeback thrust with two men away in the seventh inning. Porter and Hunt smacked out back-to-back triples good for two runs, but Wilkins bore down to quell the uprising and cop the decision.

Porter and Hunt also produced the only other Monroe base knocks, hitting a single apiece earlier in the contest.

Wilkins struck out seven men and didn't allow a walk in winning the game. Hunt fanned eight batters, but surrendered six free passes and hit one man. Scioto has games slated this week with Columbus Holy Family and Ashville.

Former Dolger Babe Herman, who has scouted for the Pirates, Yankees and Phillies, is scouting for the New York Mets, new team in the National League for 1962.

Redleg Rookie Hurler Gets Credit for Halting Dodgers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Rookie Ken Hunt and reliever Bill Henry of the Cincinnati Reds combined for a five-hit, 2-0 victory over Los Angeles Tuesday night that ended the second place Dodgers' winning streak at five games. First place San Francisco retained a .013 percentage point edge despite a 12-4 walloping by St. Louis.

Milwaukee beat third place Pittsburgh 1-0 behind the four-hit pitching of Lew Burdette, and Philadelphia defeated the Chicago Cubs 2-1 in 10 innings.

Hunt, 22, a 6-foot-4, 210-pounder who wasn't on the Reds' spring roster, has beaten the Giants, Pittsburgh and now the Dodgers in a 4-2 record and is 3-1 in the Reds' comeback. Henry, the old man of the staff at 33, has four saves in the same sport.

The Dodgers, who had won eight in a row on the road, got all five hits off Hunt. The youngster struck out six, but also walked six, bringing on Henry in the eighth for a perfect, 1-3-11-inning mopup.

The Reds beat Los Angeles for the first time in five tries by bunting three of their seven hits for two runs in the sixth off Don Drysdale (3-3). Gus Bell's sacrifice fly and a single by Gordie Coleman brought them across after singles by oDn Blasingame and Vada Pinson and a walk had loaded the bases.

Bill White was 4-for-5 and drove in five runs, two with a first-inning home run off loser Sam Jones (3-3), as the Cardinals banged 15 hits and ran up their biggest scoring total of the season. Don Taussig also hit a two-run homer in support of Ray Saadecki (3-3), who breezed in with a 12-hit job. Harvey Kuenn and Orlando Cepeda homered for San Francisco.

The Braves scored in the first inning on a triple by Frank Bolling and a single by Ed Mathews, then managed just two more hits off loser Bobby Shantz (1-1), making his first start in two seasons, and reliever Elroy Face.

A single by Charlie Smith and a two-out triple by Bob Malkmus broke it up for the Phils against Glen Hobbie (2-5).

The Detroit Tigers regained a 1/2-game lead in the American League race by trimming Minnesota 5-2 Tuesday night, tying the major league record with three consecutive home runs in the ninth inning. Second place Cleveland lost 9-0 to the Los Angeles Angels as Ken McBride ended the Indians' winning streak at six games with a three-hitter.

Baltimore beat the Chicago White Sox 3-1 and Washington defeated Kansas City 7-3 in the only other games scheduled in the AL. Norm Cash, Steve Boros and Dick Brown combined for the home run burst by the Tigers off a pair of relievers, loser Ray Moore (3-2) and Paul Giel. Al Kaline also hit his first home run of the season, in the sixth inning, for the Tigers, who collected nine hits. Hank Aguirre (2-3) was the winner in relief.

The Twins had seven hits, one a fourth-inning single that gave Lennie Green a 20-game hitting streak, longest in the majors this year.

McBride (4-2), a 25-year-old right-hander who had only an 0-2 record to show for two brief trials with the White Sox, gave up two singles and a double, walked five and struck out five against the Indians. The Angels backed him with 11 hits, three of them homers — pair of three-run shots by Ken Hunt and Earl Averill, and a solo by Leon Wagner in the first inning off loser Jim Perry.

The Orioles also did it with home runs, one by Dick Williams in the first inning and a two-run homer by Jerry Adair in the second. Southpaw Billy Pierce (1-3) was the loser, although striking out 12 in six innings. Billy Hoelt (1-1) won it with three innings of three-hit, shutout relief by Hoyt Wilhelm, who lowered his earned run average to 1.32 for 41 innings.

A two-run triple by Willie Tasby wrapped it up for the Senators as they scored four in the eighth at Kansas City and beat Ray Herbert (3-3). Ed Hobaugh (2-2) was the winner, with relief help from Marty Kutyna when the A's came back with two runs in their eighth. Pitcher Don Larsen, converted into an outfielder by A's manager Joe Gordon after hitting a pinch homer Monday, was 0-for-4 and struck out with two on in the rally.

Record-Crashing Program Possible at State Carnival

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—If the weather is clear and the track fast, some record-crashing performances are due in Ohio's 54th high school cinder championship carnival this weekend.

More than 1,000 of the Buckeye realm's speediest are set for action in the Friday-Saturday track field meet, in which Cleveland Glenville is defending Class AA championship, and Paulding, the Class A king.

In the various competitions this year, including last weekend's district qualifiers, five state records have been eclipsed—some of which have been in the books a long, long time.

George Brose of Dayton Belmont whipped through the mile in 4:20 in the district meet—the fastest ever run in Ohio by a scholastic star. The state record of 4:24.6 has held up for a quarter-century. Warren Hand of Dayton Roosevelt also broke the old mark with a 4:22 clocking as he chased Brose.

Dan Hughes of Grandview ran the 880-yard district race in 1:56, almost a full second under the 1:56.9 state record set 16 years ago. Five others have cracked the two-minute barrier—and this could be the race of the year.

Kennedy Golf Course Tale Pooh-Poohed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House has pooh-poohed a report that Mrs. John F. Kennedy is giving the President an abbreviated golf course of his own for a birthday present.

"Ridiculous and untrue," Andrew Hatcher, assistant press secretary, declared.

But a source in a position to know said a course of three or four holes for the President's private use is in the making on the Kennedy's weekend estate near Middleburg, Va.

And, this source said, a sign already has been put up denoting the golfing areas as the "Glen Ora Country Club."

Hatcher acknowledged there has been some hitting of golf balls at Glen Ora, but insisted no course was under construction.

All that has happened, Hatcher said, is that four stakes have been placed in a cow pasture.

He said there are no greens, no fairways, and no putting cups.

Par for each of the four "holes," Hatcher said, is nine.

Hatcher said Kennedy has "hit a few balls" in the pasture. The idea, as Hatcher explained it, is to drive from one stake to another. As for the reports that Mrs. Kennedy is footing the bills for a golf course, Hatcher said there has been no expenditure by her or anyone else.

According to the source which calls it a golf course, workers were busy all last week removing rocks from the "fairways."

This source said the "course" embraces about 20 acres of the 400-acre estate.

Kennedy's birthday is next Monday when he will be 44. His present plans are to be in Boston that day.

REPORT CUBA IS ISLE OF FEAR—New stories of the conditions of fear and hate existing in Premier Fidel Castro's Cuba were revealed by some of the 50 Americans who were landed in Miami, Fla. The first U.S. citizens to be repatriated since Castro proclaimed the island a "socialist state" they flew home on an air liner chartered by the State Department. At top, Martin P. Houseman, 29, United Press International's Havana correspondent is greeted by fellow newsmen. Two days after the invasion attempt, Houseman was arrested; held for five days and then was released to a friendly embassy.

Texas Brothers Are Victors In 'Battle of Millionaires'

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—The Murchison brothers of Texas today were declared the winner in their proxy fight to overthrow the present management of the giant Allegheny Corporation. Their margin was 853,998 stockholder votes.

The certification of the upset victory gave each director nominated by the Murchisons 5,026,011 votes to 4,172,013 votes polled by the incumbent directors headed by Allan P. Kirby, board chairman.

The triumph of John D. Murchison and his brother, Clint W. Murchison Jr., gave them control of the $6.7 billion railroad and investment company empire.

The results were announced at the recessed session of the corporation's May 1 annual meeting.

Unanswered, however, was this question: By winning the battle, did John D. Murchison, 39, and Clint, 37, win the war?

Paradoxically, the outcome left Kirby, rich and proud, owning nearly 30 per cent of Allegheny's 9,844,970 common shares, a holding larger than that of the corporation's new rulers and their associates combined.

In the lexicon of poker, Kirby was "looking down the throats" of the victors. The best indication was that he would bide his time, spurning the Murchisons' expected proffer of representation on the board.

Kirby, 68, reputedly worth $300 million built on a Woolworth 5-and-10 cent store inheritance, stayde away from today's thrice-recessed session of Allegheny's May 1 annual meeting.

The count of proxies was finished only last weekend.

The dissident Texans whose father, fabulous oilman and investor Clint W. Murchison Sr., once was a Kirby business ally swept all nine director berths—the seven elected by common stock votes and the two chosen by preferred shareowners.

The Murchison forces planned to assemble in New York on Wednesday to take over officially, probably by installing an interim crew of new corporate officers.

One report had them angling for services of John J. McCloy, former New York banker and government official, as directing head of the company.

Robert B. Anderson, a former secretary of the Treasury and now a special partner in a Wall Street investment firm, was another possibility.

Allegheny controls the $2.5-billion New York Central Railroad and Investors Diversified Services, a $3.7-billion, Minneapolis-based investment company complex.

In addition, it has multimillion-dollar holdings in the Baltimore and Ohio and Missouri Pacific railroads, Webb Knap pnc., Giant New York realty firm, and Transamerica Corp., an insurance holding company.

'WE ARE...LEGAL'—Deputy U.S. Attorney General Byron (Whizzer) White, in Montgomery, Ala., in charge of a swarm of U.S. marshals, says "We are on sound legal ground" as a reply to the assertion of Alabama's Gov. John Patterson that the federal government has no right to take action in the Montgomery violence.

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Strange and frightening ailments are afflicting that once proud and glamorous industry, railroading.

NBC's final "White Paper" of the season took a look at our faltering rail systems Tuesday night. It summed up the gloomy picture with some shots of rotting ties, rusting rails and defensive railroad presidents pleading for equal treatment with rival forms of transportation while raising the specter of socialism in a nationalization of the industry.

But the public's shifting attitude toward rail travel was even more dramatically sketched in three short vignettes.

One was a turn of the century film clip, showing excited, elegantly attired men, women and children dinging in luxury aboard the plush 20th Century as it roared through the countryside. Then the scene shifted to today—a group of disconsolate, bored people in the train's club car.

"I'm on this thing," said one man disdainfully, "because I couldn't get a flight to Chicago."

"I've gotten so used to had conditions," said a New York bound commuter with weary resignation, "that I'll settle for the hot cars in summer, the cold cars in winter and I'll sit on a hard bench, if they wil only just get me to work on time."

The program skipped all over the country, finding delays, breakdowns, poor service, discontinued trains, branch lines and main lines all over the place. The one bright spot in the gloomy picture was the Chicago and Northwest-ern Railroad out of Chicago, which has modernized its equip-ment, attracted (rather than dis-couraged) commuters and has turned a huge deficit into a tiny profit.

The whole situation seemed thoroughly disheartening and, even in summary, narrator Chet Huntley could not come up with much of an answer to the problem. Carrying people on trains just doesn't seem to be profitable.

Recommended tonight: Perry Como Show, NBC, 9-10 (EDT)—with George Gobel and Martha Raye; Circle Theater, CBS, 10-11—"Days of Confusion," a dramatized documentary about current problems young people have in getting into the colleges of their choice.

40 Chillicothe Guards in 'Bama

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP)—Warden Olin Minton of the Chillicothe Federal Reformatory disclosed Tuesday that 40 custodial officers of the institution now are in Montgomery, Ala., acting as special deputy U. S. marshals.

Warden Minton said the officers left Sunday morning by commercial airline, and that they carried "traditional sidearms." This was assumed to be night-sticks and revolvers, the sidearms carried by guards and officers of penal institutions such as Chillicothe.

"I sat right across from the thief," said Joseph E. Newald, owner of the stamp firm. "I only realized 20 valuable stamps had been taken after he went. It was an amazing sleight of hand trick."

Yee, who was born in Hong Kong, also may be sought in Chicago, Washington and Detroit, police said.

Next Move In Allegheny Case Awaited

NEW YORK (AP)—The battle is over and where do we go from here is the question today facing stockholders in the Allegheny Corp. who voted a change in command of an empire controlling $6.7 billion.

John D. Murchison, 39, the Texan who successfully led the dissidents in an uphill assault, declined to go beyond a hint of his wishes.

He deferred to a meeting today of his new board of directors virtually all decisions on the day-to-day operation of the holding corporation and any radical change in the use of the millions of dollars at its disposal.

The 31-year-old corporation has paid only one dividend of a nickel, ridiculed by Murchison, and that was at the height of the battle this year for control.

Murchison voiced only one dictatorial dictum Tuesday in Baltimore after he had won control of Allegheny by nearly 854,000 votes out of more than nine million cast in this century's biggest struggle on the financial field.

That was that Allan P. Kirby, 68, the power behind and in front of the Allegheny Corp. since 1937, has not and will not be offered a spot on the board of directors.

"It's up to him" to make any peace overture, Murchison said. Kirby is the biggest single individual stockholder in Allegheny with one-third of its shares.

New hours are from 6 to 9 p. m. on Fridays instead of the visiting period on Sundays.

Society officials today sounded a request for any or all articles pertaining to Logan Elm which may be used in the local exhibit. Persons owning articles on the famous tree may contact Mrs. John Beck, GR 4-3743 or bring the items to the museum on Saturday afternoons or Friday evening.

Current window exhibits are "Lighting Down Through the Years in Pickaway County" and ten "What Is It?" displays. They will be on view for two more weeks, then will be replaced by new scenes.
